

My Beauty Favorites — Week of May 9-15, 2016

The weather has been fluctuation in Kansas City this week. I don't know whether to wear short s or a sweater half of the time! But I am very glad that my kids are almost out of school (one and a half weeks and counting) and am looking forward d to the summer.

This week I'm loving luxe beauty tools and products. Sometimes you just have to treat yourself!! The products include an amazing airbrush foundation system, a fresh berry face peel and s skincare infused with mineral water.

Appriya Sheer Indulgence Collection

Appriya Sheer Indulgence Collection ($349 USD) – Jet set and be beautiful with Sheer Indulgence Collection. This collection consists of the travel size Comprehensive Mineral Day & Night Cream, Delicate Zone Mineral Serum Mineral Complex Serum. With the Sheer Indulgence Collection, experience ultimate hydration and energize your skin for your most youthful complexion.

Gentle and evenly brush on one pump of the Delicate Zone Mineral Serum around the eyes, neck and décolleté, applying light pressure with your ring finger. Follow by applying Appriya

Mineral Complex Serum in a circular motion on the face and neck during your day and night skin care regiment for a moisturized, youthful looking skin. Finish with protective Appriya Comprehensive Mineral Day & Night Cream on the face and down towards the neck and chest, allowing the skin to absorb it fully.

What I think: I love these products! They are so luxe and feel amazing on. I haven't been using them long, but I notice that my skin looks firmer and smoother. It is also very hydrated but not greasy. The products sink right in and hydrate immediately.
